EMERGING LEADERS CONFERENCE

FEBRUARY 23-25, 2019 | AUSTIN

Dear Boss:

I am passionate about working for our company and the insurance industry. I would like to ask you to consider nominating me for the 2020 Emerging Leaders Conference which will be held February 23-25, 2020, in Austin, Texas.

The Emerging Leaders Conference was created by the Insurance Careers Movement, the American Property Casualty Insurance Association, and AM Best to help identify, inspire, and retain rising stars in the insurance industry. The Emerging Leaders Conference provides accelerated professional development by C-Suite executives, health and wellness strategies for high performers, and networking in a vibrant environment. Check out some of the powerful 2019 keynote addresses, fireside chats and panel discussion here.

After the inaugural 2019 Emerging Leaders conference, 100 percent of post survey respondents rated the conference excellent or very good and 90 percent shared they will definitely or very likely remain in the industry. Check out the powerful testimonials from the rising stars that attended the inaugural event:

"One of the most inspiring events I have ever attended, and an absolute catalyst for my career."

"This was very motivational and gave great insight as to how some of the best CEO's and other C-suite executives are running their businesses. I got great insight on how to better myself, manage others and take my company to the next level through better leadership."

"It was the best conference I've ever been to. Finally--an opportunity to collaborate with my peers who are not necessarily doing the same work I am. Somehow the content was relevant to everyone."

Here are a few logistics on the Emerging Leaders Conference nomination process. You would complete a brief online nomination process that discusses my current contributions to our company and how I am making a positive impact in our industry. The 2020 accepted nominees will be announced in September. Our company would be responsible for my travel, hotel and registration fees should I be accepted in the 2020 class of Emerging Leaders.

Thank you for considering nominating me for the 2020 Emerging Leaders Conference. If you have any questions please email Marguerite Tortorello, managing director of the Insurance Careers Movement at mt@tortcommunications.com. Thank you for believing in my talents and supporting my career development.

Sincerely,
